

Project Management Solutions

Benefit from Experience - Seasoned Project Managers with the added support of Organisational Development knowledge.

When is it needed?

Your Business is facing a large Change Programme and you need someone who has lived through substantial Business change and can hit the ground running. This can prove to be the difference between success and failure.

How will I know its for us?

You realise that re-deploying in-house resources to support a project can be a bit like changing the tyres on a car when travelling full speed down the motorway. Using external project support allows you to benefit from experience with clear and contracted expectations, while ensuring the day job is not impacted.

OMT Group has an extensive database of highly skilled and experienced:

- Project Managers
- Business Analysts
- Systems Analysts
- Interim Managers
- Change Managers

How will it work?

OMT Group has a broad range of experienced project managers available. Examples of our track record include:

- Analysis, Design & Implementation of Future Operating Model for large FTSE100 company.
- Successful turnaround of a Head Office relocation programme for FTSE100 company.
- Programme Manager for Company Integration following large acquisition.
- Design, build and test of client reporting systems.
- Project Manager for Offshore Fund Rationalisation Programme.
- Project Manager for Anti-Money Laundering rectification Programme.
- Model Office Manager.
- Interim Operations Management.

We know that as project managers we must add real value from day one, the experience of our professionals ensures this is a reality.

With OMT Group, you are not just getting a Project Management Solution, you are tapping into Organisational Development & Change expertise.

What makes us unique is that OMT Group operations is supported by full time employees who have held senior positions within the fund administration arena including Director of Investment Administration and Director of Client Services (Transfer Agency) – We understand what you are endeavouring to achieve.

What our Client's say about it!

"When undergoing major change, experience can be the difference between success and failure. OMT Group has always provided us with quality and experienced project resources, just when we needed them most"

Tony Carey, Senior Vice President, JP Morgan
